Kosovo Police, as one of the most important law enforcement institutions, besides achieving the main objectives and performing the legal tasks which contain, but are not limited only in protection of life, property and provision of safety, prevention of the risk of citizens, oversight and traffic control up to the management of state border management, has had in focus the ongoing and professional cooperation with media and citizens in general. This cooperation has always been of an understanding spirit and of full transparency, also based on the joint strategic purposes for a safe and quiet environment for all the citizens.

Lieutenant Bajram Shabani: When we talk about police engagements in providing the safety and escort of VIP-s, KP has the Close Protection Unit (CPU) which operates within the Special Unit Division (SUD) within the Department of Operations. For the CPU engagement for escorting local VIP-s

Theoretical aspects of dealing with general security and the ideological impact

Daut HOXHA

Security, in general, increasingly is being considered a challenge for societies and institutions in general for security all over the world.

The method of confrontation between rivals, ideological or political one, includes a variety of actions that sometimes are unpredictable and hardly manageable even for most powerful states with highly developed mechanisms and agencies to face the danger and continuously undertake proactive and active measures in the function of managing general security. This can be underlined especially for the fact that along with the development of technology more favorable conditions and circumstances for more coordinated approach and actions are created, including the propaganda in optimal time and space.

The propaganda actions effects as a result of fast spread of the information through this advanced technology that in many cases are related to the extremist ideology, in a way reach the indoctrination in one hand and creation of panic in another one, for certain groups or society in general, where often creates confusion in the security aspect.

Our country as well was impacted by such developments where various ideologies are clashed in attempt to dominate one another and the conflicts throughout the world have electrified certain elements in our country to be involved in inciting and supporting various (terrorist) organizations, allegedly for spreading the various ideologies or causes. The society and state's security institutions in the Republic of Kosovo are following carefully the security situation by having an active cooperation and mutual role in prevention and reducing of the impact of spread of the of extremist ideologies as well as the isolation of their propagandistic elements. The tolerance and cooperation of our citizens with the relevant institutions is an advantage that ranks our country as a successful one in the fight against terrorism. Kosovo police has played very important role in addressing this problem and activating all other actors in the function of improving the general security conditions. Kosovo just like the other cannot be immune against unpredictable terrorist actions that may occur, although our country managed to have under control the elements that have been evaluated as potentially related to the individuals or terrorist cells and based on the situations there have been actual cases of prevention of such actions that

The society and state's security institutions in the Republic of Kosovo are following carefully the security situation by having an active cooperation and mutual role in prevention and reducing the impact of spread of the extremist ideologies as well as the isolation of their propagandistic elements. might have resulted with unpredictable consequences.

Although Kosovo recent years has undergone some fragile economic, political and social processes, Kosovo Police based on its legal scope, continuously undertook professionally operational measures in order to provide order and security in the country, as well as normal functioning of state's institutions. Except guaranteeing the function of the institution, through an active professional and transparent work, with the society and media, was achieved high mutual trust, which makes Kosovo Police one of the most transparent and credible institution in this part of the region.

Police conducts additional activities in order to increase the traffic safety

Kosovo Police, in addition to numerous activities, has undertaken additional activities in providing safety for the children, especially pupils, conducting lectures on schools and kindergartens, as well as performing checkpoints near schools. This was done with the aim to raise greater awareness for knowledges and in respecting the road traffic rules. Based on the data of fatal accidents that have occurred during the September 2017, from eight (8) accidents with fatality, ten (10) persons have died, from them five (5) drivers, three (3) passengers and two (2) pedestrian. It is worth mentioning that none of the persons died in the traffic accidents for this period, has not been under the age of eighteen (18). Referring the number of pupils and their movement from the house to the schools or from the school to the house, Kosovo Police urges that: in order to increase the vigilance, the parents and pupils should be more careful when participating in road traffic. Special care should be taken by the vehicles drivers to respect all the rules arising from the road traffic law, to guarantee a greater safety and to avoid the traffic accidents on the roads. Otherwise, Kosovo Police for all the participants who contradict the traffic laws will continue to apply the legal measures and there will be zero tolerance.

Taking into consideration various researches throughout the world, realized in various fields of negative phenomenon, mainly in the identification field, prevention and combating radicalism and violent extremism, it is evident that the training on terrorism is not enough through the reactive or repressive approach against suspects with radical tendencies and potentially with manifestation of violence, but a special and very important role has the proactive or soft approach against this phenomenon. Actually, the adequate and serious treatment and of the proactive approach in prevention of radicalism and violent extremism, potentially leading to terrorism, is an approach with long term results and prevents spreading extreme ideologies to the population in general.

Police Directorate in Community and Prevention, respectively the Section on Prevention of Violence and Delinquency of Juveniles, in cooperation with the Directorate Against Terrorism, respectively the Section on Prevention, based on the Strategy and Action Plan 2017-2021 "Community Policing" respectively strategic objective I, II and III, has the main aim to serve in raising awareness of pupils about the concept of community policing and their role in identifying and prevention of terrorism in general.

FOR THE FIRST TIME, POLICE OF THE REPUBLIC OF KOSOVO ORGANIZED THE FESTIVE PROGRAM WITH CHILDREN, TO CELEBRATE THE 1st OF JUNE

The 1st of June is the International children's day. Children of all ages today want to be happy and celebrate this day with their parents. This day now has become not only a festive day, but also an awareness day to say no to violence and abuse of child. It is the day when the children raise the voice for their rights, but unlike the adults, their protest is marked with festive games.

1st of June was firstly marked in the United States of America and China, but there's nothing to do with communism. In 1925 the general Chinese consul in San Francisco, brought a considerable number of orphaned children to celebrate the 'Dragon ship' festival'. Lot of world countries have accepted it as the International day of children which day aims the increase their attention to their well-being.

Based on the objectivity of the Strategy and Action Plan 2017-2021 "Policing in Community" in order to increase the safety in schools; based on the mission and vision of Kosovo Police in the awareness and prevention aspect; with the aim to increase and advance its services in the prevention field and increase of cooperation with citizens; with the aim to raising the awareness of community, parents and teachers for protection and promotion of children's rights; with the aim to inform the children about the rights and obligations in society, the Directorate of Police in Community through the Section for Prevention of Crime and Delinquency of Juveniles, in cooperation by the United Nations Development program (UNDP/KSSP/PVE) and in coordination of the activity with the Municipal Assembly in Prishtina, has organized this activity to mark the International day of children. In this police activity have participated various police Units such as: Special Operational Unit, Patrolling Unit, Motorcycle Unit, Bicycle unit and K9 unit. During this activity, the Police officers have also distributed various awareness brochures where there are treated various topics, with the interest not only for children but also for the parent's community regarding the safety aspect. Kosovo Police within its mission and vision for maintaining the order and public peace, protection of human rights, preservation of property and citizen's life, a special priority has given to the field of prevention of negative phenomenon and crimes of various types. Furthermore, Kosovo Police engages maximally to raise the awareness to the community members and the children, especially, to protect the rights and to promote them. Unfortunately, beside the engagement of Kosovo Police there may still be cases when the children are target of violence and forcing in heavy works or works which are prohibited and sanctioned by law. In this contest, we often have had cases when the parents consciously violate their children's rights or others. Kosovo Police through the awareness activities is attempting to increase the awareness of community members in general to prevent such cases of children abuse, being a part of problem solving by reporting timely the violations of children, which violations may still be in the initial phase and the consequences for the children in this case may be re-cured or be avoided totally.

In 2005 I had the pleasure to travel abroad in a sport competition.

In Rambuje – France, in the pre-Olympic games of the category of disabled persons I had the chance to win three Olympic medals, one golden and two silver medals. This competition strengthened me and gave me confidence.

I would like to stress that I feel very good with my colleagues, they have an extraordinary respect for me and respecting the working hours has given me courage and good will. The positivity has given me kindness and I feel here like in my home.

I am grateful to everyone around me.

THE PROFESSIONAL – MOTHER POLICE OFFICER, A CHALLENGE THAT REQUIRES EFFORT AND COMMITMENT

To be a mother means to be a candle that illuminates every path, despite persistent efforts to achieve all the targets.

As it is known, MOTHER is the main family pillar, the strongest joist in a roof. Her passion is the healthy family, it's her obligation to maintain with patience everything around her, but she has another occupation – a job which she must perform as professional.

The mother's occupations are diverse, some require a lot of challenges and responsibilities while some are easier, but the occupation 'MOTHER' prevails all other occupations. "Mother school" is a guidance which gives you training lectures for every occupation and each profession is exercised by them with love and commitment from the heart.

A mother surrounded by daily obligations is under the time pressure however with unsparing effort she must successfully finish all the works.

The professional 'mother' has also the name POLICE OFFICER which becomes more special because she with herself also has a self-defender 'child' as well as other protectors and the weapon in the belt. Besides the family she has the responsibility for the entire population. She wears the PROTECTIVE garment. She is supposed to stay awake all the time. She must serve as an example for a family and of a society as a whole, she is a mother called POLICE OFFICER.

Everything is inside her, at her we find a leader employee who knows how to work with priority and commitment. In a first place she leads successfully the 'institution' called 'FAMILY' and without doubts she may lead any kind of state institution because the leadership experience of a family always leads to the success even where the occupation requires. The combination of experiences from the social – familiar and professional experience gives high results. She is leader and queen of any field. She is SUPERMANAGER.!

She knows to respect the rules (even though the experiences of a mother often push you to kick them out), she knows to be quiet and patient, she knows to forgive based on the rules of life experience, she is a guide that solve everything.

She has high leadership virtues at home and work, she carries the burden of many social problems because she knows them well, because she is a mother police officer. In dramatic situations she is alongside the men, she also works on the night shifts, faces with protests and raise her children healthy, well-educated during entire life. She is torch that illuminates when there is the lack of light, when there is no hope, when the problems appears, when there is a need for protection, when the welfare and peace is needed. Who else would perform the occupation of a police officer with more responsibility and honorability than a mother? We can call her our heroin, "MOTHER POLICE OFFICER".

VITAMIN 'D' IS ESSENTIAL PART OF HEALTH

Dr. Lindita Kajtazi
Internist- Endocrinologist

Vitamin 'D' is a quite important and unique vitamin for the human body. It functions as prohormones where under the action of sun rays, the body may synthesize it, means from the UV sun rays, B. Therefore, it is preferable to sunbathe 15-20 minutes during one day, without using sun creams, in order to get enough vitamin D. This vitamin can be also provided through the food such as: fish oil and milk productions etc, which have a great importance. The main biological function of vitamin D is to maintain normal levels of calcium and phosphorus in the bloodstream, affecting in absorption of calcium which then results in strong bones, in the immunity system due to its bacterial properties and in prevention of various diseases, including diabetes, asthmatic crisis, malign diseases, foetus development (here is the importance that a pregnant women should obtain this vitamin) etc.

The lack of vitamin D has become a widespread disease. It is followed by a lack of chronic energy, fatigue, lack of immune force, pain in bones, frequent bone breakage, osteoporosis which results in muscular or bone weakness, depression, loss of memory (to the elderly), it incites pain and deformities in bones (to the children), pain in muscles, etc...

The lack of vitamin D comes as a result of the work in closed environments, such as, office, various premises, during the night shifts, non-adequate feeding, to the diseases when the kidney cannot convert the vitamin D into active form, the overweight, etc.

Sun rays are the first source of vitamin D, especially during the winter season when the day is shorter and the possibilities to get rays are fewer.

All these consequences from the lack of this vitamin as we mentioned before, come from the lack of sun rays and it is worth mentioning that it is dangerous for the officers who work in closed environments inside offices 8 hours a day and these consequences pose a risk for their health.

We recommend you to measure the D vitamin in blood, in order to find out if we have lack of D vitamin and to avoid the consequences of this vitamin and to regain it through the right feeding and other supplements on time (only by dosing from practitioner).

5 questions that reveal a person

We all agree that, when we meet someone new, regardless the circumstances, is not easy to recognize them.

At the beginning it seems that you have an accurate opinion about him, but two or three more situations are enough to understand that you are wrong.

All friends, collaborators, relatives once have been unknown to us, and if you remember, your relation with them could have started in more conflictual situation.

To understand better the other, if you are interested, there are several questions that facilitate the recognition process. According to psychologists, the 5 following questions will easily present the features of someone else personality. Certainly, if he is not liar ...

1. How would you describe yourself?

2. What are your ambitions?

Where would you like to go?

3. Tell me some of the books titles you have read.

4. What kind of music you like?

5. What is your dream work?.

Do you know why "ambulance" is written backwards?

When you see an ambulance in the street, you notice that the word "Ambulance" is written backwards, as "Ecnalubma". But do you know why? Of course everyone knows the mirror effect, you right side becomes the left, number 2 becomes 5, and the letters also are read backwards. Therefore, the main and only reason that this word to be readable by other drivers, "Ecnalubma" is written in the front part of vehicle in order that the other drivers can easily read it from the mirror, which is clearly read as "Ambulance". If this word wouldn't be written backwards, all the drivers would see it as Ecnalubma.

In the emergency cases we should never be confused, even though someone could say I recognize when there is an ambulance without reading the word, whether from the window or sirens, but this name is necessary since even other vehicles of police have similar lights and sirens.

Damages that the tie may cause

Tie is very important for the work in office, especially in important presentations or meetings.

But, if the tie is too tied, it reduces the blood flow which then goes to the brain and increases the internal pressure in the eye, causing chronic headache, pain on ears and unclear vision.

On the other hand, limited neck movements may lead in muscular tension on the shoulders and spine.
